JAPANESE SETTLERS
ABROAD.GEOGRAPHICAL AND ETHNOLOGICAL DISTRIBUTION.

An interesting narrative is given in relation to the manner of distribution of Japanese settlers throughout the world in a recent number of the Chuo Keron, "the Central Review," by an official of the Foreign Office who writes the article anonymously for certain reasons. According to latest statistics, says the writer, the population of our country is about 70,000,000 out of which 13,000,000 are Koreans and 3,000,000 Formosans. "By the middle of this century the Empire's population will expand to the gigantic number of 100,000,000, provided the present rate of increase suffers no abatement. Even now we stand in this respect among the big nations of the world. China, England, Russia, the United States of America and France—these five countries only are ahead of us." Outside of the Empire, Japan has some 340,000 colonists (census of June, 1915). Moreover, the number of immigrants is yearly increasing, a fact which is the strongest proof of our expansion abroad. Principal scenes of increase are China, Manchuria and the South Seas. In America expansion is gained, not by a fresh supply of immigrants, but by birth of children. As for the geographical distribution of our settlers, China has the largest share, showing 300,000. Next comes America, where the number is given at 175,000. Other regions are—Brazil 16,000; Canada 12,000; the Straits Settlements 6,200; Peru 6,000; the Philippines 5,700; Australia 6,200; Eastern Siberia 4,000; the Dutch Indies 3,200. All of these lands with the single exception of Brazil are on the Pacific. In regard to Japanese colonization Asia stands first in rank followed by both America and Australia. Europe falls far behind. In that continent the number of Japanese settlers is about 1,000, of which the greater part live in London and Paris. Japanese residents in England and France are estimated at 880 and 180 respectively. In Africa exact statistics cannot be obtained, but at any rate the number must be very small.

In China our countrymen are distributed thus—Chientsao 175,000; Kwangtung 48,000; Mukden 16,000; Shanghai 11,000; Antung 8,000; Niochuan 6,000; Changchun 6,000. The greater part are concentrated in Manchuria, as the above figures show. There is also a considerable number in the Valley of the Yangtze-kiang. Turning our attention next to America, the most prominent region in this respect is the state of California. The total population of the Japanese colonies within the six states of California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico is placed at about 70,000. Some 9,000 children are born every year in these settlements. In the Hawaiian Islands Japanese immigrants are estimated at 93,000, and the number of children born is 4,000 annually. In both the Americas our compatriots are for the most part living on the shores of the Pacific, viz., on the coasts of Alaska, British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, California, Mexico and Peru. Japanese residents in Mexico are 2,700. On the

|          | Males. | Females. |
|----------|--------|----------|
| Saigon   | 180    | 350      |
| Calcutta | 290    | 350      |
| Bombay   | 180    | 180      |

In Singapore the difference is again very slight. Men are 31,000 and women 3,092. America is another instance of frightful inequality in this matter. The male colonists are given at 78,000, but the females are only 13,000, making a proportion of 6 to 1. Marriage between Japanese and Americans being the exception, not the rule, in that part of the continent, the only remedy for this evil state is the introduction of Japanese women. By this means, some improvement has already been made in the settlements there. In future more immigration of ladies must be encouraged. In Hawaii this disproportion between the two sexes is not so striking as in America. Men are 55,000 and women 28,000. In Europe, only 200 out of 1,000 residents are ladies, the ratio being 4 males to one female.

In regard to occupations, the majority of the settlers are agriculturists, the number being estimated at 200,000. They are to a large extent Koreans in China and Japanese in America. Labourers working on farms are 78,000, chiefly in America. Others are—Clerks 16,000; labourers of miscellaneous kinds 18,000; servants 14,000. They are all in the wage-earning class. Professional men and businessmen of large means are very rare among them. This state of things is most regrettable. In future immigration is highly desirable of such men as get their living by the exercise of the intellect, not by mere bodily labour.—"Herald of Asia."

THE MAGISTRACY.

COURT INTERPRETER AND POLICEMAN CHARGED.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETEXTS.

R. M. H. Castro, a Police Reservist and an interpreter at the Magistracy, appeared before Mr. J. B. Wood this morning on a charge of obtaining $200 by false pretences, it being alleged that he stated he was in a position to obtain the liberation of a certain prisoner from gaol.

Mr. J. H. Gardiner prosecuted and Mr. F. C. Jenkin (instructed by Mr. Leo. D'Almada) defended.

Mr. Gardiner said it would be possible to conduct the case without a Shanghai interpreter but he would prefer that the usual Court interpreter should not be employed as one of the allegations was that the interpreter instigated the proceedings and that Castro had done him out of certain fees for interpreting.

The Magistrate said that that was awkward and added that there had been no notice given.

Mr. Gardiner pointed out that defendant could always check the interpreter.

Mr. Gardiner stated that on May 27th a man named Wong Mui Ying, a prisoner in Victoria Gaol, was convicted of an offence against the Opium Ordinance he having had a certain quantity of opium in his possession. That man was fined $1,000 or in default four months' imprisonment. Complainant interested himself in the prisoner inasmuch as he had come from Shanghai. Complainant was a friend of the god-father of the prisoner. On June 17th the complainant was at the Police Court paying the fine of one or more friends who had been convicted for having stolen rice. He saw Castro, the defendant, whom he knew as a Shanghai dialect interpreter and approached him with reference to fixing up the fines. Defendant at that time represented that he was in a position, on receipt of $200, to obtain the release of Wong. Complainant wrote a letter to Shanghai and in consequence the godfather of the prisoner sent a man down with $200 which was alleged to have been the price for the release of the prisoner. That man arrived on July 1st and two days later in an interview defendant suggested that he should see him at his house at 8, Mosque Junction, that night. Complainant had arranged a dinner for that night to which defendant was invited. Nothing was said about the release of the prisoner except that defendant suggested that a change of clothing would be arranged to be at his house for the prisoner. The clothing was taken to 8, Mosque Junction, and afterwards defendant said the prisoner would be out on Saturday and that complainant had better be present to receive him. The prisoner did not turn up and defendant said he would go to the gaol and ascertain the reason. Subsequently defendant informed complainant that prisoner was ill and afterwards stated that the prisoner had left the gaol and had gone to Shanghai. Complainant and his friends were pleased but on writing to Shanghai he learnt prisoner had not been seen there.

The defendant was seen again and after much talking, said to complainant: "You can do what you like."

Evidence was then taken and the case adjourned.

SEBUTTS SENT TO GAOL.

Two shroffs were sent to gaol for six months for embezzlement to-day.

One reported to the Police on the 2nd inst. that $600 was stolen from him while riding on a tramcar, but subsequently he confessed that the money had been swindled out of him by gamblers. The money he had collected on behalf of his employer.

The second defendant, employed by Mr. Tong Li Tung, the owner of the King Edward Hotel, admitted the embezzlement of $200. He had gone with the first defendant to a gambling house and used his employer's money in the hope of getting rich quickly.

SPECIAL POLICEMAN CHARGED.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin, Deputy Superintendent of Police (Reserve), prosecuted a Chinese of the Reserves for misconduct. Accused was said to be a regular absentee from parades and neglected to turn up at a punishment parade. Accused said he was warned for the parade but afterwards said he was ordered to go on a murder case at Tsim Tsai Tung. He said he had also been ill, that was why he was absent on other occasions. He did not produce a certificate.

The case was adjourned for accused to produce evidence.

LECTURE ON THE WAR AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

Mr. Frederic Coleman, F.R.G.S., author of "From Mons to Ypres with French," lectured in the ball room at Government House last night on his experiences at the front during the first year of the war. Mr. Coleman is an American, and is admirably equipped for lecturing with a fluency of speech, an ability to present vivid word pictures of the incidents he describes and, withal, by a keen sense of humour as well as a depth of sympathy which combine to compel the attention and excite the interest of his audience. For an hour and a half last night he held the unflinching attention of a large gathering. The main incident described in Mr. Coleman's narrative last night was the retreat from Mons and the subsequent retreat of the Germans back from the Marne. He particularly emphasised the indomitable spirit of the British "Tommy" after the disaster at Mons, and illustrated it by a number of interesting incidents which came within his personal experience. The wonderful spirit of the British "Tommy," he said, had meant much in this war.

It helped him and pulled him together when he seemed to have gone all to pieces in that fatal period at Mons, and it has produced the great and confident spirit which is to be found everywhere on the Western front to-day. It is this spirit and this dry, even grim, humour which makes the British "Tommy," along with his military accomplishments and aptitude for doing things on his own initiative, equal to three, yes, and sometimes four and five German soldiers.

The lecturer also paid glowing tributes to the new France and the bravery of her soldiers.

The war, he declared, had to be won on the Western front; no other ending was possible, and the impressions he had derived from his experience with the British Army on the Western front enabled him to look forward with confidence to the result of the great final struggle which is yet to come.

After the lecturer had been speaking about an hour a series of interesting pictures taken by him at the front were thrown upon a screen and Mr. Coleman had something to say about each. The lantern had been kindly lent by the University and was manipulated by Mr. Noble, of the staff of the University. The pictures were excellently screened.

At the conclusion, H.E. the Governor in a few appreciative remarks conveyed to Mr. Coleman the cordial thanks of the audience for a most interesting lecture, and especially acknowledged the compliments he had paid, as a neutral, to the virtues of the British Tommy.

Mr. Coleman gives his last lecture in Hongkong to-night at the Peak Club.

INDIAN'S FATAL WRESTLE.

An Indian constable attached to Shau-ki-wan Station died in the Hospital this morning from a broken neck. He had been wrestling with a friend at Tsim Tsai Tung where the Indians have a wrestling pit and during a match last night he twisted his neck.

MOTOR LIFE BOATS.

One of the future equipments of large passenger ships will, it is evident, be motor lifeboats. One of these craft, says the Liverpool "Journal of Commerce," has been delivered to the Canadian Pacific Ocean Service, Limited, for placing on board one of their "seamers." This boat has been built by Messrs. J. Crickton and Co., Limited. The designer is Mr. Barnett, of Messrs. G. L. Watson and Co., Glasgow. The dimensions are 30 feet by 9 feet by 4 feet. The boat is fitted with air cases and outside buoyancy is provided for by a bulging of cork covered with canvas, extending all round the boat. Two large watertight relieving tanks are fitted, one on each side amidships, with relieving valves. The boat may be operated by one man. The speed obtained with the boat was about 8 knots, but there is an ample reserve of power in hand for towing purposes. The boat was put through some severe tests for stability qualities, all of which were gone through with every satisfaction. The boat is fitted with wireless.

AFFAIRS IN KWANG-TUNG.

INTERPOLATIONS IN THE CHINESE PARLIAMENT.

(Wah Tse Yat Po's Service.)

PEKING, Aug. 25.

The Premier appeared in the Lower House on the 23rd and was asked by Chow Loo if there was any truth in Lung Chai Kwong's proclamation that the Cabinet had instructed the Tuhus of Kiangsi and Fokien to dispatch troops to Kwangtung.

The Premier replied that no such instructions had been given, but in view of the conflict between Lung Chai Kwong and Li Lieh Kwan the Government had deemed it necessary to concentrate troops in readiness to go to Kwangtung.

Yip Ha Sing asked what measures the Government were taking in regard to the situation in Kwangtung. The Prime Minister replied that he had already instructed the troops outside Canton City to retire thirty li and he had urged Lung Chai Kwong to hand over the seals and leave the city.

The House passed a resolution to impeach Lung Chai Kwong.

COMMERCIAL.

HONGKONG SHARE REPORT.

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor, in their weekly circular state:—

Business has somewhat improved in our local market during the week under review, and in spite of the approaching August settlement (29th inst.) the whole prices have been well maintained.

The Canton position would appear to be better, and great hopes are now entertained by those most interested, that there will shortly be a settlement.

In the North the Shanghai market shows some symptoms of life again. Docks, Rubbers and Cotton all disclosing strength. Rubber is quoted at 4d. per lb. and the whole share market is firm.

CLIMATE.—Hongkong Banks after sales at $740 are in quiet but steady demand at this price with no shares coming out. MARINE INSURANCE.—Unions, small lots can be placed at $220 but sellers are scarce. Cargoes are nominal at $290 and North China at $135 and Yangtze at $100 (all cash).

FIRE INSURANCE.—China Fires are wanted at $154 whilst Hongkong Fires have sellers at $300.

SHIPPING.—Donglases have firmed up to $135 for each at which rate transactions are reported, the market closing with sellers at this price. Preferred Lines are without business at $16 but Deferred Indos, after weakness and after a fair number of transactions at about $125, are now firmer with sales recorded at $127 1/2 for the settlement. Star Ferries have risen smartly on report of good business and the improved position of subsidiary coasts which is now at par. A fair number of receipts have changed hands and shares have been done at $104 and buyers prevail round about this figure. Steamboats have been neglected at $224.

REFINERS.—China Sugars continue a weak market, a little "bear" covering has kept the market steady between $110 and $113 for August, but at the close shares are on offer at $111 with equivalent rates forward. There are plenty of forward sellers. Malabons have weakened, and are now wanted at the reduced rate of $37 1/2.

CHINA LUMBER.—Langkats continue with very little or no business at $124. 24. China Lights are wanted at $4.70. Ural Caspians come from London at $34 and for Troms 60s. could be obtained. Shells are quiet but steady at $110s.

WHEAT.—Wares and ASD. Gonywara—Docks. Wharves have moved a firm market with sales at $33, buyers still offering $33 for cash. A London telegram to Japan papers mentions that east of the Suez Canal, where the Turkish attacking forces were defeated by the British, the Turks have now been driven off. It is said that the Turkish army is now retreating and that the British are now in possession of the Suez Canal.

The new attitude of Chinese politicians toward this country is a source of satisfaction. It is suggested that the Chinese should be turned to the full advantage. Japan's capitalists are now in a position to lend money to China. There is a large amount of capital now seeking investment, and if the capitalists are not too exacting in their terms it is believed that they can easily secure very good investments in China. But timidity is the chief characteristic of moneyed men, and it may be time for a subscription to a Chinese loan to become a reality. In the meantime it may be necessary to have some new arrangements made between the two Governments. For instance, more confidence in the Chinese should be shown, and if the Chinese are not too exacting in their terms it is believed that they can easily secure very good investments in China. ## CHINA AND OUTER MONGOLIA.

THE RUSSIAN NOTE.

The Peking Gazette states:—

The Russian note regarding the representation of Outer Mongolia in Parliament continues to be the subject of considerable comment in parliamentary circles; and many are being expressed that are likely to embarrass the Government in framing an appropriate reply to the objections raised in the document. As an indication of the injudicious criticism indulged in, we may mention that some one with more boldness than discretion—urges the abrogation of the Declaration and Convention defining the status of Outer Mongolia, on the ground that these documents were not concluded with the concurrence of Parliament as provided in art. 35 of the Provisional Constitution. And because we have suggested in our Chinese section the necessity of dealing with the issue in terms of actuality instead of mere technicality, an indignant patriot has denounced the Editor of our Chinese section as a traitor to the country!

While we recognise the embarrassment caused to the Government by the attitude of Parliament, we have to express the hope that the question will be considered on the basis of the existing situation. Whether Yuan Shih-kai set constitutionally or not in concluding the documents in question, we have to accept the system of Mongolian autonomy set up by these documents for the very forcible reason that Russia holds the new Administration to the acceptance and continuance of the same. But we are inclined to agree with the view that the representation of Outer Mongolia in the Chinese Parliament is not per se in conflict with the autonomous rights conceded to Outer Mongolia under the Russo-Chinese settlement of 1913 and 1915.

On principle there is nothing to disable an autonomous portion of a state from arranging for representation in the National Parliament, provided—and this proviso applies with greater force where, as in the present case, a third Power is interested—laws passed by such a body do not automatically apply to the autonomous area. The extension of all such laws to the territory under autonomous government would be a negation of the conception of autonomy, but the conception would be unaffected by any arrangement which, excluding such a territorial extension of national laws, enabled the autonomous government to continue and maintain its connexion with the parent state in those regions of affairs which are shared in common by all the people of a country.

LOOKING TOWARD JAPAN.

MANY CHINESE SEEK THE AID OF JAPAN.

The following is by a contributor to the Japan Mail, who writes over the signature of "Onlooker."

According to an observer who has just returned from an extensive tour through Tientsin, Shanghai, Peking, Hankow, Canton and other centres, a remarkable change has come over the mental attitude of the thinking public of China toward the people of this country. While President Yuan was alive, there were many who dared not show open friendship to the Japanese, but after his death they had nothing to fear in giving expression to their convictions.

It is on the authority of the same observer that it is not too much to say that the leading thinkers are completely agreed in feeling the necessity of Japan's assistance in tidying over the present situation. Japan has so far succeeded in impressing on the mind of Chinese politicians that no territorial ambition is entertained, this has served in removing suspicion concerning the ulterior motives of this country.

Chinese politicians are now showing themselves to be remarkably reliant on Japan. First of all, they want financial assistance. Any hope of financial help from America having ceased, Japan is now the only country from which any help in that line can be expected. The most remarkable thing is that the changed attitude of Chinese politicians toward Japan, the Premier Tuan Chi-jung and of Mr. Tsing Shi-shan. Both of them were known for their suspicion toward this country, but now they are most frank and outspoken in their belief that without Japan's friendly assistance it would be almost hopeless to effect a satisfactory solution of the situation.

Besides securing financial assistance from Japan, there are some among Chinese politicians who think it necessary to get military help from Japan. They are of the opinion that Japan's policy of policing and preserving order throughout the Provinces. Whether they can succeed in getting Japan's help in that direction remains to be seen. If they are clear that no international help would be started thereby, they may become a practical question. However, such a question will require time to reach final conclusion.

The new Japanese Minister is very widely welcomed in China. It is generally felt that his knowledge of things Chinese and his sympathy toward the people of China will be found of great use in cementing friendly relations of the two countries. Among the politicians in Peking there are some who do not hesitate to say that the Chinese Government should seek his personal advice in steering the ship of state through the course which it is now entering.

The new attitude of Chinese politicians toward this country is a source of satisfaction. It is suggested that the Chinese should be turned to the full advantage. Japan's capitalists are now in a position to lend money to China. There is a large amount of capital now seeking investment, and if the capitalists are not too exacting in their terms it is believed that they can easily secure very good investments in China. But timidity is the chief characteristic of moneyed men, and it may be time for a subscription to a Chinese loan to become a reality. For instance, more confidence in the Chinese should be shown, and if the Chinese are not too exacting in their terms it is believed that they can easily secure very good investments in China.
